A Word About NASS Reports...

The Agricultural Statistics Board (ASB) publishes reports of State and U.S. production, stocks, inventories, disposition, utilization, and prices of agricultural inputs and commodities, and other items such as labor, farm numbers, and agricultural chemical usage.

National reports are issued from the Washington, D.C., Headquarters. Individual State reports are issued from the Field Offices (FOs) following release of the national reports. Printed copies of both ASB and FO reports are available for a fee.

An abundance of agricultural information is available to data users through our programs. In addition to the information above, estimates on more specialized commodities, including hop stocks, mink, cherries, cranberries, lentils, and peppermint oil are also available. The information is geared toward producers and can help them plan planting, feeding, breeding, and marketing programs. The data are also used by agricultural organizations, services, businesses, trade groups, and financial institutions to determine demand for inputs, resources, transportation, and storage-related crop and livestock products. Data are used to make and carry out agricultural policy concerning farm program legislation, commodity programs, agricultural research, and rural development.

Data Security Is Our Top Priority. Names, addresses, and personal identifiers are never revealed. NASS survey and census data never leave NASS control.

Only authorized persons working for NASS as employees or sworn partners, who are subject to fines and imprisonment for unauthorized disclosure, can access NASS data and only for approved statistical purposes. NASS does not conduct surveys or provide data for private, proprietary purposes.

When NASS collects data for others in a NASS-approved statistical study, farmers and ranchers will always be informed about the cooperating sponsor and participation will always be voluntary.

Summary data from all NASS surveys and censuses are available to everyone, but will never disclose individual reported information.

NASS reports are available electronically immediately after release via "Today's Reports from NASS" homepage at www.nass.usda.gov.

E-Mail Subscriptions

E-mail subscriptions to NASS and World Agricultural Outlook Board (WAOB) periodicals are available free of charge via e-mail, generally delivered within one hour of publication. Our electronic mailing list provides quick and timely access to the agricultural and economic information estimates. Please note that delivery time may take longer depending on factors, such as network speed and report size.

NASS Revision Policy

Most estimates are subject to revision, if necessary, when the next estimate is prepared. Revisions are made to provide data users with the best possible data for evaluating the current estimates. Revisions are based on additional information, such as new surveys, late reports, corrected data, or more complete administrative data.

Understanding USDA Crop Forecasts

The publication describes the statistical methodology used by the National Agricultural Statistics Service to prepare the crop forecasts to give users of the data a better understanding. This is followed by a similar description of the world agriculture supply and demand estimates prepared by the WAOB. This publication is also available in Spanish, Russian and Chinese. To obtain a copy of this publication call Customer Service at (800) 727-9540 and ask for Miscellaneous Publication No. 1554.

Quick Stats - Agricultural Statistics Data Base

U.S. and State information, published in NASS national reports, is available in an online database via the Internet FREE OF CHARGE. The database allows custom extracts based on commodity, year, State, and other selection criteria and produces an output file compatible for updating databases and spreadsheets for selected commodities. The database can be accessed from the NASS Homepage at: www.nass.usda.gov under the heading "Data and Statistics".

County level data are also available via Quick Stats. The data include the total crops for each county and breakouts for irrigated and non-irrigated practices for many crops, for selected States. The database allows custom extracts based on commodity, year, selected counties within a State, or all counties in one or more States. The county data includes totals for the Agricultural Statistics Districts (county groupings) and the State. The download data files contain planted and harvested area, yield per acre, and production.

Another method for customers to access crops county data is via pre-extracted files. The pre-extracted data files, in Comma-Separated Value (CSV) format, are available for the current year, as well as historical years. These files were extracted from the Quick Stats and contain total crop and cropping practices for each county. These files are located from the NASS Homepage by clicking on Data and Statistics.

District forecasts are also available for selected States during the current year. To access these forecasts from the NASS Homepage, click on Data and Statistics. The forecasts can be found under the State and County heading on the Quick Stats page.

Rich Site Summary (RSS) Alerts

RSS feeds are free content feeds from Web sites that contain article headlines, summaries and links back to full-text articles on the web.

RSS uses XML technology to syndicate web content, sending it directly to your desktop, your web browser, or an web-based RSS reader. Instead of visiting a specific Web site to search for new articles and features, RSS is a convenient way to alert you when content of interest appears on your favorite Web sites.

Currently NASS offers national feeds for its News and Coming Events, Today's Reports, and Census of Agriculture. Several NASS field offices have also made feeds available for download. For more information visit:

It also includes Adobe Acrobat Portable Document Format (PDF) files of the printed reports for each State and the U. S. Summary. Generalized, digital cartographic boundary files of state- and county-level geographic areas for which 2007 Census of Agriculture data are reported. The cartographic boundary files can be used with Geographic Information System (GIS) software as a base for medium to small-scale thematic mapping. Metadata files for the cartographic boundary files are included.

Cropland Data Layer DVD. NASS is pleased to offer this geospatial product for monitoring the nation's agricultural land cover. The Cropland Data Layer (CDL) products are the final categorized output from NASS' Remote Sensing Program. A crop specific categorization is available for each state on DVD. The categorization uses imagery from the Resourcesat-1 AWiFS, Terra MODIS and Landsat satellites. Each CDL data set includes a digital, categorized, georeferenced image of the state and associated accuracy statistics and metadata. A confidence layer data product is included indicating a percent confidence associated with each pixel. The images are available in GeoTIFF and ERDAS Imagine .img format for importing into most commercial GIS and image processing applications. The CDL products cover the entire continental United States for the first time in 2009. The data are available annually for the darker shaded states, beginning in the years indicated on the map. For the medium shaded states, the CDL is considered to be an infrequent product for the year shown on the map. The lighter shaded states are new CDL states in 2009. To obtain a copy of the CDL data on DVD, contact NASS customer service at (800) 727-9540, or visit the Cropland Data Layer website at www.nass.usda.gov/research/Cropland/.

Census of Agriculture

The Census is conducted every 5 years to obtain agricultural statistics for each county, State, and the Nation.

The Census is the leading source of statistics about the Nation's agricultural production and the only source of consistent, comparable data at the county, State, and national levels. The Census is authorized by law under Title 7, U.S. code, and is conducted in close cooperation with the Nation's agricultural user groups and farmer organizations.

The Census includes all places from which $1,000 or more of agricultural products, including government payments, were produced and sold, or normally would have been sold, during the census year.

Special Studies and Censuses are conducted as follow-on programs to the Census. The follow-on programs include an Organic Production Survey, a Farm and Ranch Irrigation Survey, an On-Farm Renewable Energy Production Survey, and a Census of Horticultural Specialties. The Organic Production Survey and On-Farm Renewable Energy Production Survey are both new projects.

Ethanol Co-Products Used For Livestock Feed. June 29, 2007. NASS collaborated with the Nebraska Corn Development, Utilization & Marketing Board, an agency of the State of Nebraska, to conduct a survey of livestock producers in 12 Midwestern States to determine current usage of distillers grains, essential feed characteristics, and concerns keeping producers from using distillers grains. The probability based survey contacted approximately 9,400 operations comprised of beef (cow/calf and feedlot), dairy, and swine species. The study included North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, and Illinois with a reference date of calendar year 2007. The National Agricultural Statistics Service published the results at the region level, combining all states surveyed for each of the four livestock species. Most of the estimates are proportions or percentages which allow for statistical comparisons among operations not feeding distillers grains.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Many thanks to the farmers, ranchers, and producers across the nation who willingly participate in the surveys with the National Agricultural Statistics Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture. They are the strength behind the NASS agricultural inventory, production, price and environmental information, products and services. We appreciate their support and cooperation—they are the cornerstone of the food and fiber system that feeds and clothes the world.
